He is very enthusiastic Enthusiasm and very approachable passionate and helpful. he also understands that some of us only take this mod for the grade and not out of intrest. he is also very approachable for any help we need. Very enthusiastic and friendly.
He interact with the students and also shown great enthusiasm in engaging us to learn
He'll go about another way to explain certain terminologies if we don't understand
During breaks and before lessons he will approach us to chat with us and understand more on our needs regarding the module as well as our idea on future prospect Really interactive, despite students' response. Displayed enthusiasm throughout the teaching.
Keep up the good work and hope he doesn't lose his enthusiasm because of the lack of response from students.

Open to a lot of questions and understanding. Knowledgeable and speaks clearly Prof Renshaw has been a very friendly and approachable lecturer. His strength is in simplifying the concepts and presenting them in an intuitive manner. He also makes an effort to interact with students and get their feedback, which I appreciate a lot. Nice Friendly Kind Explains concepts very well.
Loved the uploading of whiteboard notes. Makes it easy to follow even if i miss a few classes. Really fantastic lecturer. A pleasure to be in his course again. Makes the concepts taught easier to grasp.
He explained rather clearly, and takes feedback from students seriously.

commented in tutorial part of evaluation Prof is extremely helpful and patient to teach all of us :-)
Explain clearly for basic concept which very useful for further in depth materials Friendly and approachable

PH1106 Lecture

He explained everything in a short and simple way,makes it easy to understand Gave a very intuitive understanding of each concept but also challenged us to think critically and visualize it. Each topic was delved into quite rigorously mathematically hence our visualization of the topic was good.
Despite being his first time teaching, he managed to convey the concepts in an easy to understand way.
content clear and concise, good overview and summary Keep up the good work!
Though i have only seen Prof Renshaw digitally due to the Covid outbreak, i appreciate the effort he puts in when teaching us the key concepts in PH1106. He also took the time off to give additional summary lectures to help students understand better. Moreover, Prof Renshaw engages his students by asking for feedback in his lesson via email and was extremely prompt in replying his students. He also puts in the extra mile to gather feedback for the online midterm exam which i find heartening. Overall, it was a pleasure knowing him despite not seeing him in person. I hope that he can carry this positive energy of his to the next batch of students!

Provides real practical reasons for importance of the course.
Always provides diagrams and drawings and takes pictures of them after lesson to upload for students.
Always open for 'negotiation' i.e. acceptable of any situations if explained in advance. Encourages students to look for him especially after going through hard concepts.
Always start the lesson with a review or summary of what was previously covered and sometimes what will be covered for the day highlighting what are the important parts.
Encourages a lot of self reading when it comes to formulas or some concepts, mostly detailed when teaching the structures. Always excited to teach. Brief and concise.
Already tells us what is important for tests and exams and tells us how he will frame the papers and the difficulty.
The diagrams and examples are helpful in trying to picture and understand certain concept or structures.
Gives clear explanations and always stresses on what is important, what are the diagrams we MUST know how to interpret or draw out. Above average teaching of concepts
Professor is enthusiastic with a lot of jokes to try to liven up the class. Very sincere in trying to help the students manage the coursework. Summarize main points of important concepts for delivering over lecture

Great sharing Good effort Good personality and teaching Enthu, good flow of teaching, approachable
Prof Wang is extremely engaging and knowledgeable. I can easily comprehend the technical terms and concepts through his teaching techniques. I can see that he is very passionate about teaching which is evident from his jovial slides in every lecture/tutorials. This is extremely rare in SPMS. he is perfect :)

PH6403

Prof. Renshaw is an excellent teacher who teaches some of the more difficult aspects of physics. Renshaw made obscure knowledge understandable to students step by step according to logic, and his high level of teaching made this teacher become the most recognized teacher among our students for a long time! He usually organizes logic and knowledge for the students and gives them time and opportunity to summarize and ask questions.
The professor's teaching ability is very good, and he is very enthusiastic in answering our questions.
He got a deep understanding of the class, and explained all the concepts clearly.
Prof. Wang Xiao is very approachable. He answered a lot of questions and give many advices to us.
The best don't need to change

The professor's teaching ability is very good, and he is very enthusiastic in answering our questions.
The lab concepts and principles are popular and intriguing for me.

PH1106

Interested and motivated educator, always willing to share his passion for the field
Superb prof. friendly and explained the concepts clearly to every students.
By explaining a bit of the history behind the theory, he makes lessons interesting by showing the interesting experiments before delving into the actual theory to catch attention. He also explains in very simple way that links the concepts and diagrams to the equations.
Clear in teaching lecture content Style of teaching is very straightforward to grasp the abstract concepts easily.

Good at explaining in class. Helps student out if needed and is structured
This prof did everything he could to make our learning easier. Very proactive
The tutor is very willing to take his free time to answer my course related questions through whatsapp outside office hours, even during weekends and public holidays.
